DEERTREES THEATRE GIVING BROADWAY PLAYS

"Kiss the Boys Goodbye," the comedy success which only recently closed a long and successful Broadway engagement, will be next week's bill at the Deertrees Theatre, Harrison, now under the direction of Bela Blau, prominent New York producer.

Helen Claire, the glamorous young actress who created the leading role on Broadway, will play the same part during the engagement at Harrison. This will mark the only presentation in Maine in which the original Broadway players will participate.

In the company supporting the attractive young star will be Sheldon Leonard as the dynamic movie producer who offers her a picture contract along with his love; Millard Mitchell, one of New York's most amusing comedians; Philip Ober, Frank Wilson, Ollie Burgoine, Loring Smith, Vivian Vance, Wylie Adams, and Ann Freshman.

"Kiss The Boys Goodbye" was written by Clare Boothe, author of the sensational success, "The Women," and in it she has developed her flair for high comedy and caustic wit. The comedy is said to be a satire on the motion picture industry and its hectic efforts to find a southern actress for "Gone With the Wind." However, in its story of modern playboys and wealthy suburban hostesses, it skims lightly over serious implications and presents three acts of fast-moving and laugh-provoking entertainment.

Ethel Barrymore, who is now appearing in her Broadway success, "Whiteoaks," will continue at the Deertrees Theatre through this coming Saturday night.

MAINE MOTOR VEHICLE TAXES HIGHER THAN U. S. AVERAGE

Maine motorists are paying motor vehicle taxes which are on an average 14.4% higher than the national average, H. M. Long, Chairman of the Maine Petroleum Industries Committee, states following an analysis made by his organization of the various taxes paid by motor vehicle operators in this state last year.

The Committee found the average motor vehicle operator in this state paid $58.50 in special automotive taxes last year, compared with average payments of $51.13 made in the nation as a whole. One of the principal reasons for the higher taxes paid by motorists in this state was found to be the state and federal gasoline taxes, which total five cents a gallon and amount to $34.44 per vehicle during the course of a year. This is 58.87 per cent of the entire motor vehicle tax bill paid and is substantially higher than the average federal and state gasoline taxes paid elsewhere in the United States.

Hubby Crabby When You Drive? Show Him This

Are women worse drivers than men? That question was born with the automobile, and for lack of conclusive data, no answer other than that of opinion has ever been given.

According to the figures in "Lest We Regret," the ninth annual highway safety booklet published by the Travelers Insurance Company, there were 36,950 automobile drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1938. Of that number, 34,700 or 93.9% were men and only 2,250 or 6.1% women.

This seems to indicate that on the highways the female of the species is not more deadly than the male. There are, however, no data on the relative number of male and female drivers; nor does anyone know how many more miles are driven by men than by women. Without such data no definite conclusions can be drawn.

of Cars and Trucks

The world knows Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks are first in value, and that's why the world has placed them first in sales!

Important to every motor car buyer is the fact that Chevrolet, first in passenger car sales, is also first in motor truck sales, because truck buyers select the trucks that pay the greatest returns.

The same qualities that distinguish Chevrolet trucks exist in equal degree in Chevrolet passenger cars. You may choose your Chevrolet solely for its beauty, comfort, or performance—but you will get in addition that all-important extra value.

40 YEARS AGO in the NEWS

July 5, 1899

The Grand Trunk depot is undergoing a complete renovation.

Quite a heavy frost, Saturday morning, left finger marks on several gardens in the place.

The pile of ship-knees, near the home of Dan Spearin on Vernon Street, is a source of considerable interest to our summer visitors, many of whom have never heard of these useful natural crooks.

West Bethel—Now that L. E. Allen is again employed as engineer in Bean's mill, we can safely regulate our clocks by the whistle.

Grafton—Nearly all the young men of this town have gone down country haying.

"THEY TELL ME"

They tell me they finished the road out in Albany last week so that it is all tarred through to Lynchville. For a long time this piece of road has been the missing link in good road from Bethel to Waterford, Lovell, Bridgton, Fryeburg, etc., and if you ain't in too big a hurry it has always been the prettiest and shortest way to go to Portland. But another thing —with black road all the way it will make a nice way for a lot more people to get to Bethel. Not only the travelers from way off—here to see the sights and fish or hunt and rest, but the folks in Lovell and Waterford and thereabouts are now a lot nearer to Bethel than they have been before, because for years their roads to other centers of trade have been improved. With proper encouragement trade should be drawn to Bethel as it hasn't been for years, but it is up to the people of Bethel—everyone one of us—not just the storekeepers who might cash in a bit more directly—to overlastingly talk up every advantage their home town has, and see that its good points grow better—and more of 'em.

WHY NOT A SAFE AND SANE FOURTH?

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING FLOWERS

Beautiful flower close-ups, such as this, are easy to take if you follow a few simple rules.

IN EARLY summer, our attention naturally turns to flower pictures.
Few camera subjects are more pleasing, and good flower pictures are not difficult to take, provided you observe a few simple rules.

Any camera may be used for picturing flowers, but a focusing model with anastigmat lens is preferable.
With a box camera or set-focus folding camera, you will need a portrait attachment. Slip this on your lens, and you can take pictures with the camera only about three feet from the subject. The attachment is also useful for more extreme close-ups with a focusing camera.

Plain backgrounds are attractive in flower pictures. Use sheets of cardboard, white, gray, or black, which you can obtain inexpensively at most printing shops or stationery stores. The card is placed behind the flowers you select for a picture. It should be of the correct shade to afford pleasing contrast.

Flower pictures should be taken during the two hours after sunrise, and the two hours before sunset.
Sunlight is soft and pleasing at these hours, but around mid day it is too harsh for pictures of delicate blooms.

Use a small lens opening for flower

"close-ups," and make sure the distance between subject and camera is correct. Film of the panchromatic type is preferable for picturing flowers, especially if they are brightly colored. You can use either a high-speed "pan" film or a fine-grained type. The high-speed film enables you to make shorter exposures, while the fine-grained film yields enlargements of superb quality.

Exposure should be ample, rather than too short. With high-speed film, try 1/25-second shutter speed at lens opening f.16. With fine-grained film, try 1/10 second at f.11, or 1/25 second at f.8. For box-camera pictures, the high-speed film is preferable.
Use a firm camera support, such as a box or chair, for any shutter speed longer than 1/25 second.

Generally, your camera should be placed or held at about the level of the flower. Light should come from the side, as this emphasizes the shape of the bloom. Take care that direct light rays do not strike the camera lens.

Try to build up an album of flower pictures this summer. Practice makes perfect, and with experience you can produce splendid results—well worth your while.

Benjamin, a Name Given

To Many Prominent Men

The name Benjamin, of Hebrew origin, means "son of my strength; son of the right hand; fortunate." The prefix "ben" means "son of," recalls Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Benjamin Franklin (1706-90) statesman, scientist, philosopher, newspaper owner, was the greatest person to bear the name in this country, perhaps best remembered for his discovery that lightning is electricity. Many namesakes has Franklin had, among the most famous being B. F. Keith (d. 1914) founder of a chain of vaudeville theaters.

Benjamin West (1738-1820) one of the founders of the Royal academy, painted his first picture when seven (of his baby sister smiling in her sleep) using colors made of berries and a brush made of hairs from the tail of the family cat. He left about 400 paintings, "The Death of Wolfe," etc.

Benjamin Robbins founded the science of gunnery, devising the first method of measuring the velocity of a cannon ball. Benjamin A. Gould (d. 1896) astronomer, discovered the difference in longitude between America and England.

Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield (1804-81), prime minister of England, was jeered when he made his first speech in parliament. He sat down, saying: "You laugh at me now, but the time will come when you will listen to me." It did.

Benjamin Harrison (1833-1901) was the twenty-third President of the United States. The late Benjamin N. Cardozo was an associate justice of the United States Supreme court.

Odd Accident to Liner

An inexplicable accident occurred to the liner Principessa Jolanda as it was being launched near Spezia in the Gulf of Genoa, Italy, on September 11, 1907. This great ship, designed to carry 1,450 passengers and a crew of 240, and with a launching value of more than $1,- 000,000 went down the slipway, turned over and sank. All that was salvaged, says Collier's Weekly, were some of the boilers.

JUNIOR CHOIR

The Junior Choir met Saturday night at the Church. Mrs. Wallace chose Barbara Coolidge and Ida Lee Clough as appointers for a president and secretary. They met during the week and decided on Joyce Swan as president and Carolyn Wight as secretary. For Sunday, July 2, our anthem was "Heart Divine." Mrs. Wallace helps us with our songs, pronunciation of words, correct time, etc.

We have nearly 18 members and we hope that this number will increase. We also hope that we will be able to do this in the future.

We want to thank Mrs. Wallace and Richard Russell for their help, and Mrs. Tibbets for meeting us after church and commenting on how well we did.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

MEMORY COURSE IN 1,000 LESSONS

THE German psychologist, Ebbinghaus, a careful, scholarly observer of the workings of the human mind, has said that we forget 90 per cent of what we learn within 24 hours. From your own experience you know that what he says is true.

The business man, noting this, understands why he must advertise, not occasionally nor sporadically, but all the time. It's the only way he can be of the greatest service to his customers.

His advertising reminds us of him and of the things he sells, and though we may forget him and those things between times, every advertisement he publishes renews the impression and creates recognition of his business.

His problem is to find the most economical way of reminding us that it is to our advantage to trade with him.

He discovers soon that nothing is so economical a medium for this purpose as the newspaper. There he advertises. We read. Both he and ourselves benefit by his repeated advertising.

He benefits in the obvious way, by winning us as steady customers. We benefit in an equally obvious way, by finding a man whom we can trust and from whom we can buy all the many things we need to make our lives more interesting and complete.

Advertising is the news of business. Often that news is of far more importance to us than any other news in the paper.

For example, if a woman needs a new coat and scans the advertisements to see what is being offered, the business news she reads is of far greater moment in her life right then than the story on page one of a war in Asia Minor or of an oil field fire in Texas.

Stripped of all glamor and mystery advertising amounts to nothing more exciting than this: telling people of a place where they can get what they need to make life possible or endurable or lively or enjoyable at the most satisfactory and economical basis.

The advertiser who keeps telling the story of his advantages naturally gets the bulk of the trade, because, as you have just learned, we all forget rapidly and must be reminded continually if we are to act.

When advertising is carried on for a long enough time, the name of the man and his product become a part of the daily life of millions of households, respected, revered things and names, almost as close to us as friends or members of our own family.

PUBLICITY BUREAU STARTS GREATER SERVICE PROGRAM

Percy T. Clarke of Ellsworth and Horace A. Hildreth of Cumberland and Northport were announced early this week as general chairmen of the greater Service program of the State of Maine Publicity Bureau.

The two aims of the state-wide program to be organized under the leadership of Mr. Clarke and Mr. Hildreth will be the following: first, to invite Maine to Help Invite the Nation; second, to put on a wider and more aggressive program of selling Maine to the nation.

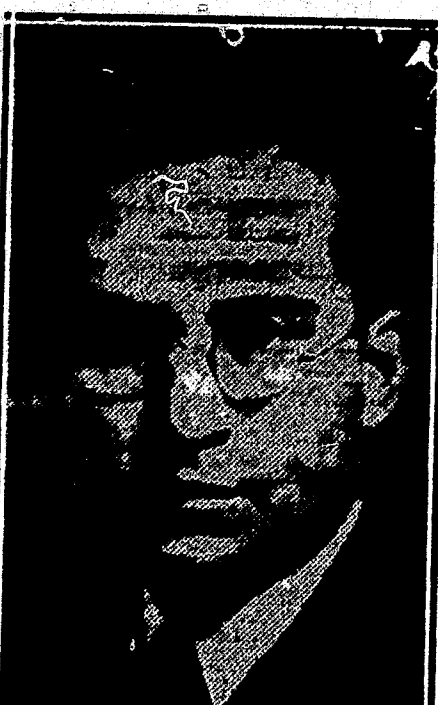

Arrangements are being made to explain fully how the Bureau operates and the possibilities of such a privately supported, state-wide agency when backed by all citizens who are directly or indirectly concerned with retaining and increasing recreational business. Opportunity will be given to all citizens to become sustaining members of the Bureau.
